This special Waterfront home on Robinson Pond is new to the market and just in time for summer 2024! Taconic Shores is a private lake community surrounding approximately 100-acre Robinson Pond, a slower-paced lake where the tranquility of a blissful eco-system can always be found. The cathedral ceiling in the living room opens to the elevated deck overlooking the gently sloping yard leading down to the water's edge and awaiting dock. The first level features a bedroom suite with full bath, a kitchen that opens to the living room and hardwood floors. There are two wood burning stoves to take the chill off or keep the entire house toasty warm on the coldest of nights. The recently updated walkout basement features two bedrooms, family room, bath, laundry and vinyl flooring. From the family room sliding doors open to the back yard patio overlooking the back yard and tranquil waters. The home is perfectly situated to enjoy everything that makes Columbia County such a special place. Fine dining in Hudson or the Berkshires, farm-to-market restaurants, glorious farmers markets, state parks, hiking, swimming, skiing are all just a short distance away. Trains at Wassaic and Hudson are within 30 minutes and about a two-hour drive from NYC. Yes, it is possible to have it all!
